

Psychotherapy & Counselling
Federation of Australia

Guidelines

For Affiliated Organisation members

Promotion of your PACFA membership

Affiliated Organisation members of PACFA may promote their membership as follows:

1. Acknowledgement of the Affiliated Organisation's membership on the PACFA website
  - Affiliated Organisations have the option to have their names listed on the PACFA website.
  - To take up this option, Affiliated Organisations are required to provide permission to be listed on the website via email to admin@pacfa.org.au.
2. Link to the PACFA website
  - Affiliated Organisations may promote their Affiliated Organisations' membership of PACFA by linking to the PACFA website from their own website, using the following wording:

<Organisation name> is an Affiliated Organisation of PACFA.
3. No endorsement
  - Affiliated Organisation membership does not involve any endorsement by PACFA of training programs, professional development events, counselling or psychotherapy services, research or publications, or other services or activities that are provided by the Affiliated Organisation.
  - Counselling and Psychotherapy training programs and professional development events runs by Affiliated Organisations are not accredited or endorsed by PACFA. Accreditation of training programs requires a separate application and is only available for training programs that meet the PACFA Training Standards.
  - Affiliated Organisations are not permitted to use the PACFA logo unless they run training programs that have been accredited by PACFA.

Membership Benefits

Membership of PACFA as an Affiliated Organisation entitles you to the following membership benefits:

1. Observer status at PACFA Council meetings which provides the opportunity to:
  - Attend PACFA Council meetings twice a year to discuss PACFA policy and strategy
  - Build networks with other organisations in the counselling and psychotherapy field
  - Contribute to the development of policy and strategy for the counselling & psychotherapy profession

2. Access to discounts for employees and volunteers:
  - Member rates on PACFA professional development events and conferences
  - Member rates on professional journals
3. The opportunity to be affiliated with the leading body for the counselling and psychotherapy profession in Australia, including:
  - Access to PACFA's expertise in counselling and psychotherapy practice, ethics and research
  - Support to raise your standards of practice and ethics in counselling and psychotherapy
  - A pathway for professional associations to access full organisational membership of PACFA as a Member Association or to join PACFA structurally as a PACFA College or Branch
  - A pathway for training providers to prepare for accreditation of their counselling or psychotherapy training programs by PACFA
4. The opportunity to support PACFA as the peak body for counselling and psychotherapy in Australia.